Growing Pains

Made an obvious intrusion into our Manualite world this year: Our personal growth paralleled our school's building expansion. Development and maturity are "key" nouns characterizing our four years at Manual, but increased knowledge, varied experiences, and new friendships all integrate to help us "over the hump" and aid us in our growing up.

Increasing Family Requires Extra Space For Growing Needs

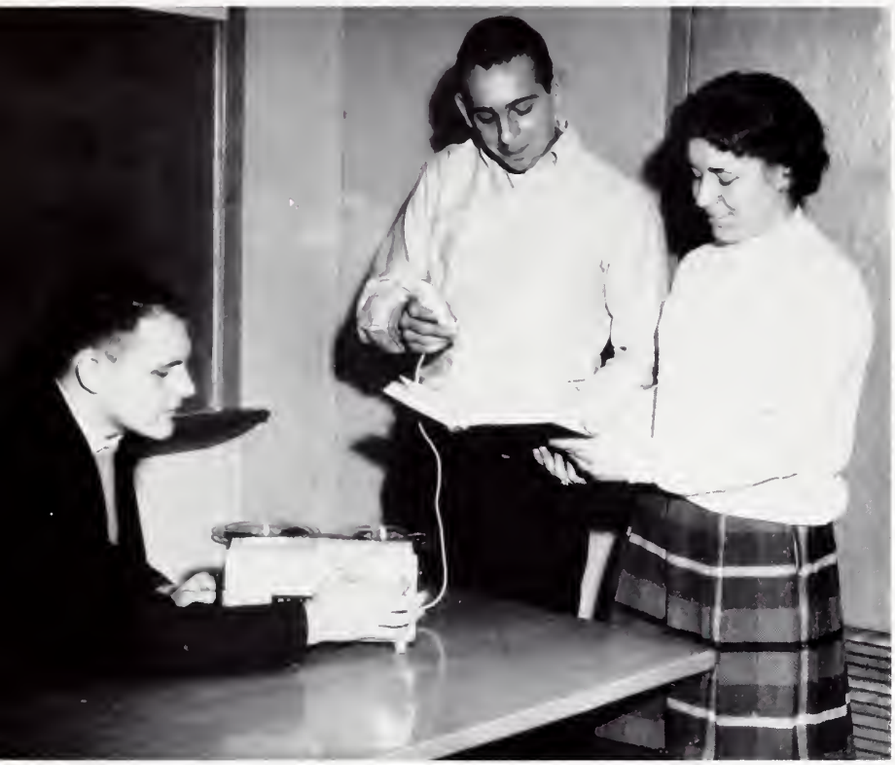
Before we "burst our seams," wise school officials added to our building thirteen regular classrooms, a new and larger library, an orchestra room, a printing lab, and double space for the auto shop. All have been completed now, giving us space to spread out and flex our muscles. So Manual grows and expands, so we mature and develop—through the common denominator of growing pains.

Yearbook staffers visited Manual during summer vacation to check on building plans and progress.

Our "sidewalk superintendents" gaze through construction workers' materials "mail slot" out across the inner campus.

Early in December came the "big move" into the new library via student carriers who lugged books at the rate of several thousand an hour. Enlarged facilities add greatly to the efficiency and ease with which we do reports and term papers.

We Grow with Our Studies—Manual's Purpose;



A tape recorder, new in the English Department this year, is helping Norma Toon and Don Sullivan improve their diction. Mr. James Kastetter, operating the recorder, is using it in his English 6 class.

For a journalism class feature, Mary Orlosky interviews School Nurse Virginia Edds on tuberculosis. Her story was entered in the local division of Columbia Scholastic Press Association's TB writing contest. The Booster won a cup for best overall coverage from the Marion County TB Association; and Susan Peters, a trophy for a news story.

"Extracurricular activities" was the topic for discussion during a session of Junior Town Meeting. Commentator Easy Gwynn and Engineer Willis Fix recorded the program for radio station WIBC. Panel members—Ron Neesen, Linda Wilson, Moderator Bob Humes, Jim Haas, and Ben Schanzel —were in Miss Athena Chochos' Speech class fall semester.

Language Arts Lead All

Esther Sobel hacks at Randy Strait's pinata at a party for all French, Spanish, and Latin classes. Below, Ralph Tacoma and Doug Booth act a scene from a Moliere play in French class.

Throughout the years since its founding in 1895, Manual has educated the whole individual—molding each student's growth and development both in and out of the classroom. Altering its program to coincide with the changing and expanding needs of a swelling student population, Manual's format changed from a trade to a comprehensive high school, which prepares students for college as well as for the business and industrial worlds. An enrollment increase of some 700 students in the last ten years necessitated additions to our physical plant and an extended school day—from eight to ten periods.

Each of the eleven departments contributes in its special area to the training of the student. The English Department started this year with all-new text books. Oedipus Rex and Hamlet invaded the seniors' world through a ten-week series of English films entitled "The Humanities." For students interested in foreign language, Manual offers French, Spanish, and Latin. Highlighting this year for advanced French was a series of recordings exchanged with a French schoolboy who was studying English. Christmas found Spanish students making pinatas, which were sent to the Children's Guardian Home.

From factoring to graphing the functions of trigonometric angles, mathematics continues to be an all-important subject. This year saw math and science "split" into separate departments because of increased activity in each. Earth Science, based on the study of the earth's crust, made its debut.

Several Government classes participated in a mock Congress—each student portraying a real Congressman. The "session" was climaxed by each student's actually exchanging letters with "his" Congressman.

For those interested in the "finer points" of life, the Fine Arts Departments opened their doors. Among the projects for Art Production class were the designing of the Senior Class armbands and the Redskin Revue program cover. The Music Department's high point of this year was its almost-professional production of the musical Oklahoma.

In the Business Department pupils in advanced typing and office training were exposed to a short course in data processing. Instruction came from outside speakers, supplemented by pamphlets.

Home Economics benefited from new equipment, gift of the Red Cross in memory of Mr. George S. Olive, an 1899 grad. In Industrial Arts, Auto Shop, now twice as large as it was because of building additions, is complemented by a new Print Shop.

Outside the classroom Manual tries to guide the social growth of each student. Whether it's sports, clubs, school service, or any other of Manual's numerous co-curricular activities, all are incorporated as a part of our training. For outside the four walls commonly referred to as the classroom, learning continues that helps ease our "growing pains."

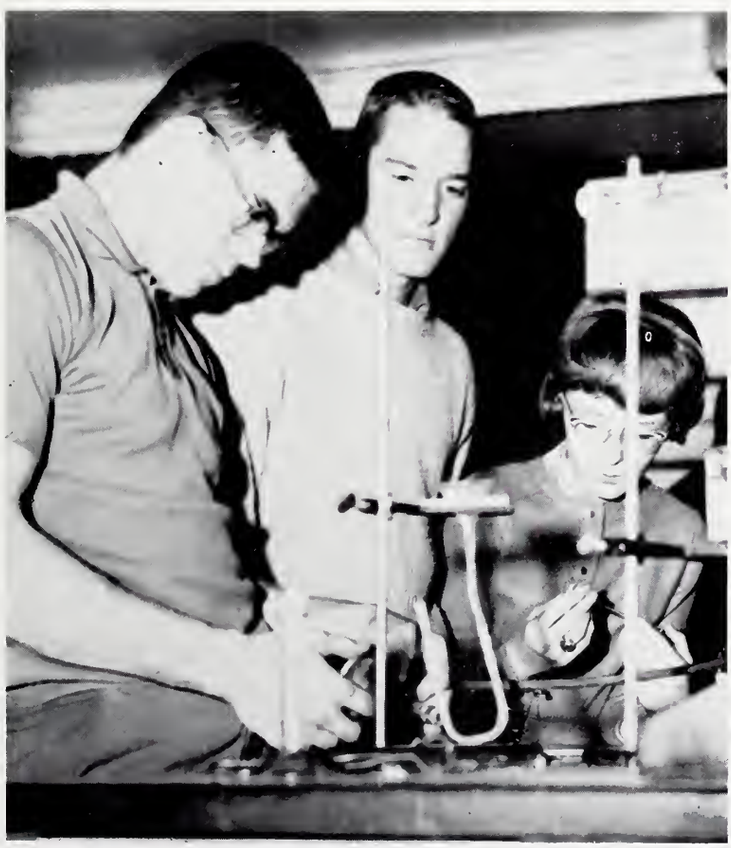
Math and Science Become Seperate Departments

Ken Beisinger and Pamela Jones check the temperature inside Manual's Weather Station, a project of the Earth Science class, new this year. It is located on east campus across the Ransdell Street drive from the Gym and attracts much interest.

Cadet Teacher Anthea Salsbury and Mr. Noah Ellis, science teacher, assist Roger Mankedick and John Maryfield with a lab assignment in biology. Microscope study opens a whole new phase of miniature life to biology students.

To Keep Pace with Space-age Events

With transparent solids, Mr. Harold Beasley clears up a point in Solid Geometry for Dick Goss, Jan McDaniel, Gary Eby, and Sue Huppert.



Measuring the horsepower of a person by timing Jack Palladay's speed as he runs up stairs is Mr. Wayne Dunbar's physics class. The actual computing is done by formula.

Larry Mills, Lonnie Robertson, and Rita Carson find that after-school hours provide valuable time for Chemistry lab experiments. Here they heat potassium chlorate to produce potassium chloride and oxygen.

Social Studies Focus On Growing, Changing World

Apon Chantravitune, an American Field Service exchange student from Thailand, locates her homeland on the globe for Judy Coleman, a senior.

Mike Mascari, Beverly Porter, and Dennis McDaniel conduct an experiment in psychology class, dealing with the reactions of a cat and mouse when placed together in a maze.

Back from a year as an exchange teacher in Scotland, Mr. Louis Parnell shows souvenirs to Judy Wilson, Edwina Eads, and Mike McCray, members of his history class.

Art Classes 'Spark' Creative Talents

Miss Gladys Denney, art teacher, makes a critique tour around an Art 3 class as students use their imaginations in creating original compositions.

Working in the Business Department's new office are Mrs. Charlotte Camfield, department head; Glenda Cansler, pupil, doing make-up work; Student Teacher Betty Prange, conferring with her critic teacher, Miss Phyllis Greve; Mr. Clifford Snyder and Miss Patsy Ramer, grading papers.

We 'Type' for Business in Commercial Labs

Class members Judy Downs, Sondra Plummer, Don Galyan, and Sharon Shepard learn to work with computers during Machine Calculation, in which students train to operate machines skillfully in preparation for future business jobs.

As part of her Office Training class program, senior Mary Evans works under a simulated business office atmosphere.

Sewing, Foods Give Homemaking Practice

Diane Lindley and Terri Nappa prepare for a mouth-to-mouth resuscitation demonstration, a feature of the first-aid unit in their Home Nursing class.

Barbara MacKinnon altered ROTC sponsor uniforms to fit this year's wearers in School Service Sewing. Carol Schilling hands out pins for Phyllis Alstott's skirt.

Advanced Foods class members participate in a buffet luncheon. Here Kathy Marshall serves Trudy Hamiter, Martha Greer, and Barbara Bannister food which their class has prepared.

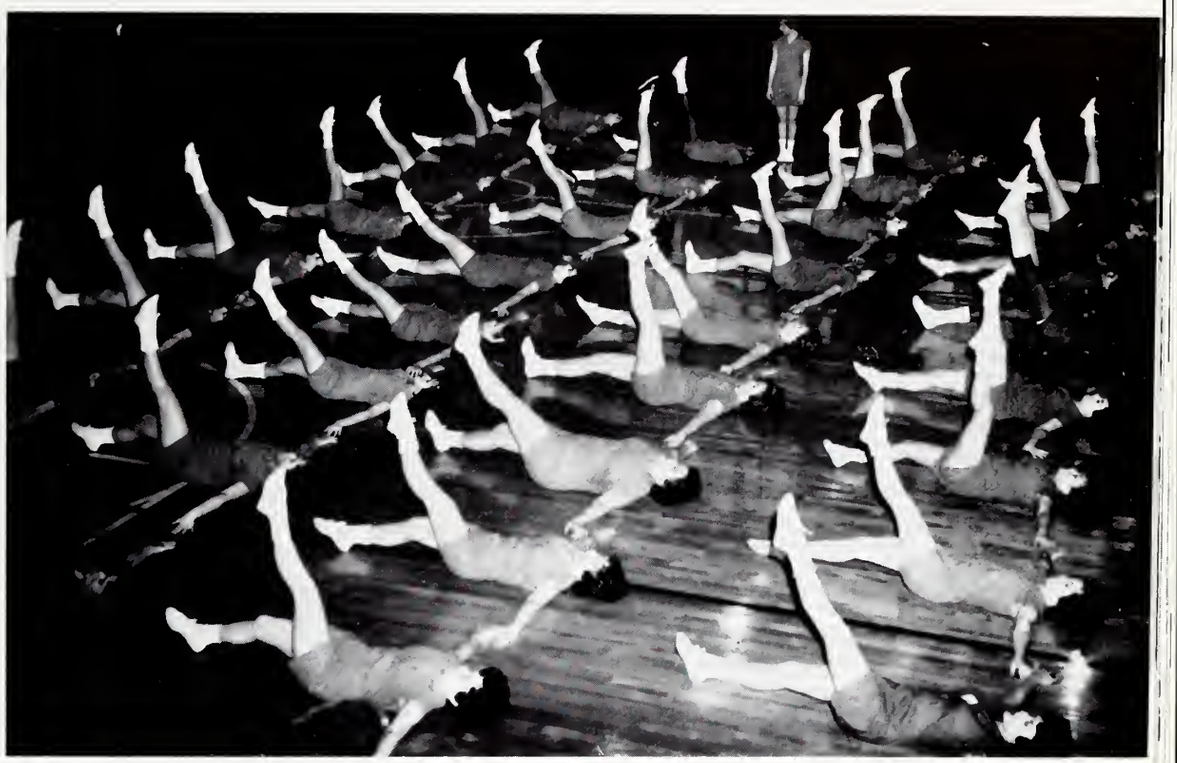
Industrial Arts Skills Grow into Jobs

Ed Finchum is using a soldering iron as he and Edward Flanagan assemble sections of an amplifier in Electric Shop, where students do apprentice-like electrical work.

Outfitted in goggles and apron for safety, Dave Shoopman concentrates on welding.

Boys machine-make precision tools on assignment in Machine Shop. Marvin Hoover mans the controls of one of the noisy "monsters."

Gym Helps to Keep Us Fit



Toes point to the ceiling in Girls' Gym, as exercises keep leg muscles agile.

Climbing a pole, Evangeline Baker tests her coordination in her gym class.

East campus serves as an outdoor classroom for "gymnasts" in good weather. Nick Mitchell works out on the chinning bar, and Richard Meyer tries a sit-up while James Wilson helps by holding his feet down.

National Education Week Brings 'Student Rule'

Manualites officiated when Mayor Albert H. Losche signed the proclamation for Indianapolis' observance of National Education Week. Senior Ralph Tacoma represented The Booster.

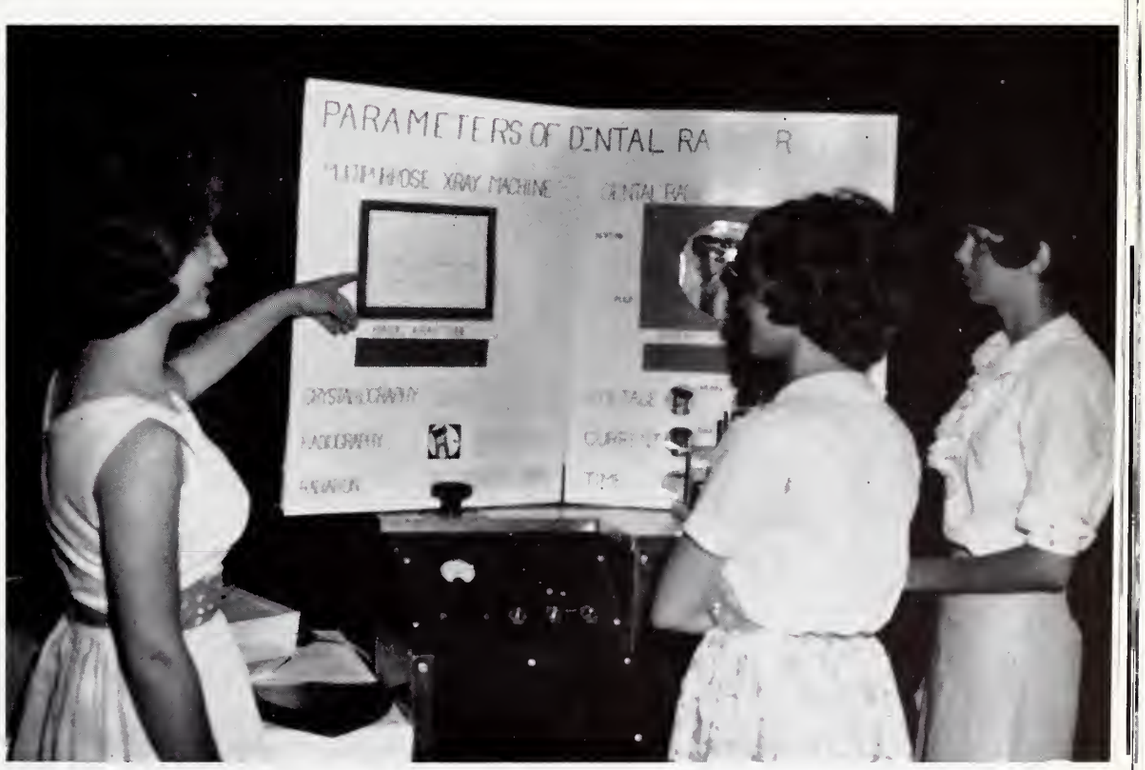
Acting as principal for Turnabout Day, a favorite feature of National Education Week each year, Senior Bob Humes discusses his "job" with Principal C. Edgar Stahl.

At the end of their day, Teacher-pupil Turnabout participants attended a P-TA Punch Party. Serving Senior Steve Davis, "Head of the English Department," is Mrs. Norman Hollcraft. "Dean of Boys" Roger Day waits his turn. Other hostesses are Mrs. Clyde Pearce and Mrs. Chester Goodin of the mothers' committee.

'Fair' Displays Classroom Work for All to See

Set up in the Gym at the close of school each year, Manual's Student Projects Fair is observed by classes throughout its day-long showing and by parents and patrons that evening. At left, students study exhibits from foreign language.

Susan Peters, Nancy Bentz, and Sonny Coffey study Bob Hume's project on "Parameters of Dental Radiography." It won first place in the Eleventh Grade Dental Health Section of the annual Science Fair, and an honorable mention in the Engineering Section.



Homecoming Fetes Royalty

Homecoming king and queen, Connie Mudd and Steve Davis, enter upon their 1963-'64 reign.

Royalty from 1962 Homecoming, Terri Stoneburner and Phil Steele, crown King Manual XI and his Queen, Steve Davis and Connie Mudd.

Dances, Parties Add to School Fun

Senior Joe O'Brien plays Santa Claus for the Senior-Freshman Christmas Party. "Big Joe" dwarfs Freshmen Tommy Arkins and Susan Phillips.

Holding reign over the Snow Whirl, given annually just before Christmas by the Manual choir, are Linda Andry and Jerry Dunn.

Our Many-starred ROTC

ROTC cadets paraded around Delavan Smith Field as part of the Federal Inspection ceremonies. Students, dismissed early from school to view the event, saw our troops retain an Honor Unit status. Special awards were presented by visiting dignitaries.

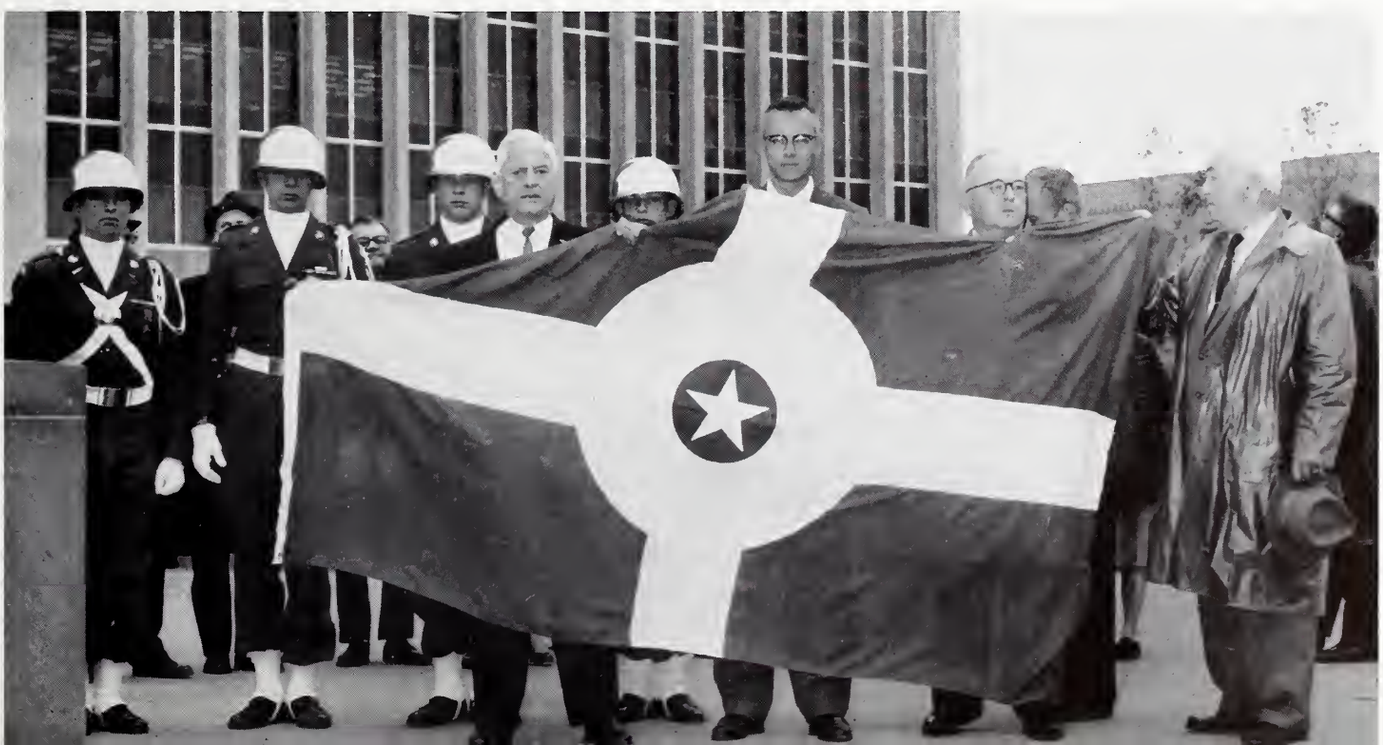
Retains 'Honor Unit' Status

Cadets Clayton Taylor, Gerald Butler, Ronald Reitjes, and Charles Cherry proudly bear the colors in front of Manual's ROTC unit for the annual Armed Forces Day Parade.

Colonel Jim Muir, Captain Ken Massey, Sponsor Donna Jones, Lieutenant Tom Canida, Major Ralph Tacoma, and Lieutenant Charles Todd parade for Armed Forces Day. Manual's marching band accompanied the unit for both this event and Federal Inspection.

The honor of raising the new city flag for the first time in front of the City-County Building fell to Manual Cadets LeRoy Butler, Mike Guyne, David Stratton, and Clayton Taylor. Mayor Albert Losche and members of Chamber of Commerce display the flag for spectators.



Four-act Redskin Revue Delights Full House

Mr. Fred Bennett, Revue co-ordinator, discusses lighting with Authors Becky Pearce, Bev Boyd, Denise Shockley, Jim Koenig, Linda Wilson, Nancy Howell, Andy Salsbury, and Mary Stienecker.

Student Co-chairmen for the 1964 Redskin Revue, Jim Muir and Jeanne Fletcher, emceed the show in formal attire.

Stage crew members spend many long hours constructing sets for the acts. Under the direction of Mr. Carl Wright, the often fantastic ideas of act directors come into being.

Football fans, sometimes subject to bitingly cold weather, "break the chill" at the PTA concession stands. Here, Mrs. Irma Adams and Mrs. Earl Lewis serve hungry fans.

Dads, Moms Roll Up Sleeves to Work for Us

Mr. Earl Lewis and Mr. Tom Doty find themselves elbow deep in donuts in another concession stand. The booth is one of the PTA's many money-making projects.

Dad's Club members Mr. Willard Hoffmann, Mr. Martin Baron, and Mr. Jack Cooney form the dishwashing-table cleaning detail after the Dads Club's annual Chili Supper.

Growing Pains

Interest sparked in the classroom often leads to participation in extracurricular activities, and from these we grow socially. Among other clubs, the senior honoraries, Masoma and Roines, lend many a helping hand around school, especially to incoming freshmen. Thus do we fill our busy afternoons with activities— each one a keystone in our "growing" world.

Hundreds of Masomas and Roines Serve Manual

As part of their service program, Masomas polish the school's trophies. Sue Byers, Susan Peters, Diane Lindley, and Madeline Watts regard the finished products of their "elbow grease."

"Gold" is an especially significant color for both Masoma and Roines this year since both clubs are celebrating their Golden Anniversaries. Their fifty years of existence have produced many loyal alumni who are still active in their alumni groups as well as in the school's organization.

Masoma, begun in 1914 by Miss Ida M. Rhem, was originally organized as a service club for senior girls. Today, Masoma is an "honor" organization of senior girls who perform special duties for the school. This year marked the retirement of Miss Elizabeth Goett, Masoma sponsor since 1958. Mrs. Betty Baker, who was a Masoma when she attended Manual, is the present sponsor.

For new Masomas the service program begins at the spring Athletic Banquet. Pledges arrive early in the afternoon to arrange tables. Following a free dinner, the "waitresses" prepare for the ensuing onslaught. Other affairs at which the girls served were the fall Athletic Banquet and the Indianapolis English Teachers' Club's Tea.

The Alumni Banquet, at which the Masomas also served, honored Mrs. Mary Spiegel, only honorary member of both Masoma and Roines. A traditional club feature is the semi-annual Masoma-Freshman mixer. Along with the September party for girls, Masoma and Roines initiated a party for all freshmen—both boys and girls—last January. The mixers, with dancing, refreshments, and games, attempt to "mix" freshmen and seniors. Members also help, with Roines, in freshmen homerooms on the first day of school. During that first week, Masomas wear their gold ribbons to identify themselves so that any "lost" freshmen may ask them for help.

The Roines, also organized in 1914, was originated for the purpose of stimulating athletic programs between city high schools. Begun by Mr. Ted Krull and Mr. Ed Gardner, the club is currently under the sponsorship of Mr. Charles Monroe, 1953 vintage. The name Roines is simply "senior" reversed.

Besides being responsible for the outside bulletin board and Manual's annual Christmas wreath and checking wraps at the Alumni Celebration, this year the Roines tutored some students who needed instruction. The Roines-Faculty basketball game as well as the Roines Romps are prime events in our school year. The "Romps" are dances given several times during the year for which Roines pledges perform various member-requested duties.

In preparation for the highly tooted Manual-Southport football game, Roines sponsored a mock Redskin-Cardinal clash. Emceed by Steve Davis with Card players "drafted" from the faculty, the affair pepped our team on to tie the Cards.

National Honor Society Cites 'Bests'

Student Problems Fall to Affairs Board

The Student Affairs Board, established as the students' representative legislative body, is composed of members elected from each class. The SAB sponsored five successful after-game dances including a Valentine dance February 14. Besides aiding our foreign exchange student and sponsoring the Safety Poster contest, the SAB promoted the annual Sportsmanship Slogan Contest as a part of the city-wide contest of the Intra-City Student Council. Manual's representatives to this group, which meets every six weeks, are Bob Whitson, Manual's president, Madelene Watts, and Susan Peters.

Cadet Teachers Jeanne DeWitt, sitting, and Marsha Cummings, right, explain what was included in a test that Jeanne devised for "her" class to Cindy Morgan and Barbara Dale. All of the girls are members of the Future Teachers of America which promotes cadet teaching for its senior members.

Clubs Preview Careers, Point to Adulthood

Teaching and nursing careers are previewed for Manualites through Future Teachers and Future Nurses clubs. These two organizations, along with Citizen's League, prepare members for a fuller adult life.

Future Teachers attended a state-wide meeting at Lawrence Central to elect state officers; while there, a panel of cadet teachers from Manual formed a discussion group on "Exploratory Teaching."

Future Nurses dressed dolls to represent the various health careers. The finished product was displayed and later loaned to various business groups.

Russia "came" to the Citizen's League through the slides and talk given by Mrs. Coral T. Black. The League also collected toys and games, Christmas presents for Central Hospital residents.

President Patty Koopman discusses the various medical professions represented by the dolls' uniforms with Future Nurses Janice Coop, Kathy Yates, Nerina McFarland, and Joan Damrell.

Many Manualites Like Performing Behind Mike,

The creative urge, as proved by the existence of such active groups as Radio Club, Mask and Wig, National Thespians, and Stage Crew, is one of the most powerful "drives" in the high school student. Announcers, directors, actors, designers, and builders—each may find his particular niche in studio or on stage at Manual. Through these performing clubs, students cater to their desire to appear before an audience and their need to create.

WMHS is our official radio station. Students and teachers who arrive at school early are treated to music, news, and commentary over WMHS almost every weekday morning. The regular sign-off playing of "On Manual" is a familiar indication to every first-period Manualite that the time is 7:55. Students interested in speech and diction often thrill at hearing their own voices over the airway. The club itself, sponsored by Mr. Edward Green, promotes interest in articulation and grammar and provides experience for any would-be announcer.

Any "orphan scarlet" seeking a home near the stage is probably a member of the Mask and Wig Club. The club, sponsored by Miss Athena Chochos, finds its pleasure in stage-connected activities. Starting its active schedule off last fall, Mask and Wig joined forces with National Thespians on two occasions, October 31 and February 20, to present two one-act plays in the Auditorium after school. The first was a comedy, "Champagne Sec"; the second, a romantic story, "After the Ball was Over." The first told of the complications that arose when a husband and wife's anniversary party was disrupted by the appearance of his former wife.

Radio Club members Larry Bronson, Nick Mitchell, Rick Foster, Charles St. Clair, and Dave Ford guide the "airing" of the morning program on WMHS.

As the "mean older sister," Donna Berry imprisons Billie Myer. Danny Maynard, as the inspector, pays a surprise visit to their lighthouse in the Mask and Wig production of "The Running Tide."

Footlights, Back Stage

National Thespians is an honorary organization of performers or otherwise stage-connected persons to the art of drama. This year the Thespian Troupe, under the direction of Mr. Fred Bennett, collaborated with Mask and Wig to present "Soldadera" and "Seeds of Suspicion." The group made a special trip to Clowes Memorial Hall to view "Ring Around the Moon." Later in the year, National Thespians, Mask and Wig, and the faculty joined to produce and dramatize excerpts from the works of Shakespeare in recognition of the 400th anniversary of the playwright's birth.

The finished product of a polished play is not due merely to good actors. Much preparation must go into constructing and planning a good set. This is the business of Manual's Stage Craft class and Stage Crew. Under the direction of Mr. Carl Wright, the members work many hours, often until late at night to perfect the sets for all the plays as well as for the monumental student-directed production—the annual Redskin Revue.

Redskin Band Performs with Honor and Distinction

Twirlers who march with the Redskin band add glamor with their precision routines. Striking a war-council pose in their Indian uniforms are Joyce Johnson, Jena Pearce, Anthea Salsbury, Marilynn Goss, Anita Jenkins, Phyllis Kottkamp, Mary Kinnaman, Connie Mudd, Janet Bowers, Linda Cooney.

A long year of activities began for the Manual Band when the marching season officially opened at the annual Football Jamboree in Butler University's stadium. Performing at each football game, the Manual Redskin Marching Band entertained fans with their intricate movements and fine marching style.

Band seniors tried their skill at planning and teaching a half-time show to the band for the last game of the season. The show was dedicated to Mr. William Kleyla, director, who was not allowed to view the show until the night it was presented.

The long hours of practice and hard work paid off when the band again received a first division rating at the Marching Contest at Southport, missing a perfect score by only two points.

The band was cut from ninety-four to seventy-four for the concert season. This group, the best musicians, played for the Alumni Birthday Party and the Band-Glee Club Winter Concert.

The Pep Band, a select group of nineteen members chosen from the concert band, played at all home basketball games and pep sessions. The band adds spark and life to the team and Pep Club.

At Every Appearance

Providing the music for all Redskin Revue acts, the Dance Band made up of seventeen band members, learned some thirty numbers to accompany performers and furnish background music for the show.

Near the end of second semester, the band once again donned practice clothes and took to the field to prepare to march with the ROTC for Federal Inspection. Performing before their largest audience for the "500" Festival Parade, the Redskins found this a fitting climax to a year of hard work.

For twenty-two seniors, Commencement was their final concert. Drum Major Diane Eickhoff lead the band for her second year. Captain Charles Overton and Lieutenant Dennis Johnson assisted her in keeping band members in hand. Patty Ebbeler served as Band Secretary; and Sharon Callahan, historian.

'O—klahoma' Proves Best Ever Musical

Laurey and Curley seek a moment alone for a private talk. The leads were played by Jane Sprague and Steve Davis.

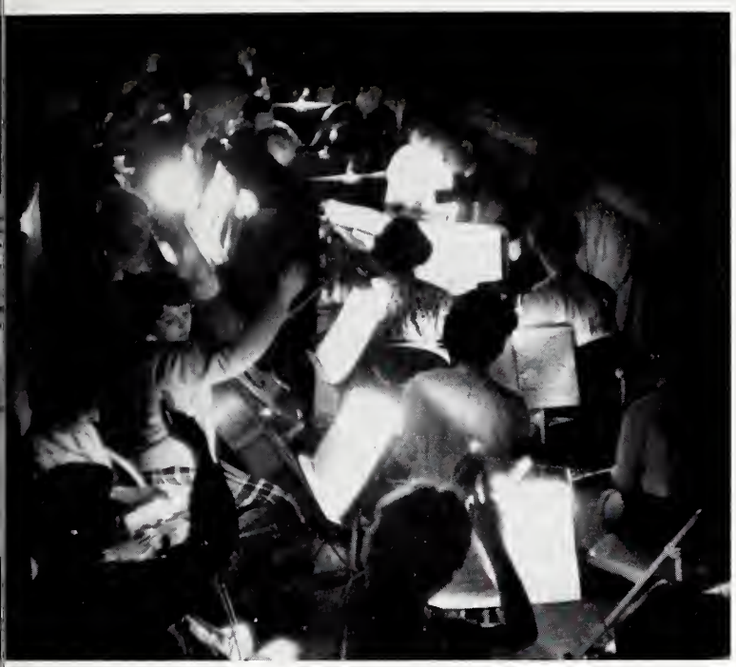
The biggest and best musical ever produced at Manual was presented to a sell-out crowd as "Oklahoma" came to life on the Manual stage for the first time. Try-outs began early in October with more people trying out than ever before. Selected members from classes in the Music Department combined to form the large chorus, so important to the show. Picking the persons to play the leading roles was a difficult task for the judges, but the decision was finally made with Jane Sprague as Laurey, Steve Davis as Curley, and Linda Ellis playing Aunt Eller. Ali Hakim was portrayed by Jim Koenig with Ben Schanzel playing Will Parker. Sharon Callahan was cast as Ado Annie and Don Townsend as Jud Fry. Many rehearsals followed under the direction of Mr. Fred Bennett and Mr. Wendell Mertz.

The pit orchestra practiced long hours for almost two months before combining with the chorus. Unable to see the stage from their pit seats, orchestra members spied on the action by using mirrors.

Students chosen as dancers, both boys and girls, worked up special routines to provide variety in the action and add a musical comedy touch.

Because of the success of "Oklahoma," arrangements have been made for a two night stand for next year's musical with the anticipation of filling the house twice instead of turning patrons away.

Surrounded by the cast of some eighty persons, Laurey and Curley join in the curtain call song "Oklahoma." Everyone agreed the production was one the best ever on Manual's stage.



Ben Schanzel and Jim Koenig seem on good terms in this scene.

Jud and Curley, Don Townsend and Steve Davis, sing a duet.

After the successful production of "Oklahoma," the Concert Choir continued throughout the year with outstanding performances. At Christmas time the Choir provided music for Downtown Indianapolis, caroling on the Circle and then through the stores.

In February the Choir sang for Founders' Day at School 35 and taped a thirty minute program, "Young America Sings," for WIBC. The year ended with the All-City Choir Festival at Tech.

Mertz, director.

Former Orchestra Member Now Wields Baton

Under the baton of Mr. Tom Dick, the orchestra practices in its new room where instrument cupboards line the background wall.

Mr. Thomas Dick, '56 graduate, returned this year to become the orchestra director. With brand new room, music, and director, sixty-six members of Manual's Orchestra filled an active schedule.

After the pit orchestra provided musical accompaniment for "Oklahoma," the orchestra presented a Christmas concert, performed along with the Choir and Glee Club, for the P-TA. The same program was presented for the student's Christmas Aud. Also during the Christmas season, the orchestra played at School 34. An all-Gershwin program made up the Orchestra-Choir Concert, with Senior Loesje Verdouw playing the piano solos in "Rhapsody in Blue." The orchestra performs at the May Music Festival, on Honor's Day, and at Senior Vespers.

Officers of the orchestra this year are Loesje Verdouw, president; Phyllis Engleman, vice-president; Peggy Pearce, secretary-treasurer; and Mary Lynn Yocum, librarian.

Ten orchestra seniors were eligible for chenille lyre awards after at least six semesters as active musicians. Winners wear these on sweaters.

A fun-filled picnic always ends the year of hard work for Manual's orchestra members.

Clubs Strive for Articulate French, English

The ability to communicate with others is becoming an increasingly important issue in our "shrinking" world. Thus, not only is the English language being spotlighted, but foreign tongues as well are "coming into their own." In keeping with this trend toward loquaciousness, Manual's extracurricular program has added two clubs to its roster of activities this year: Debate Club and French Club.

The Debate Club, organized last fall under the watchful eye of Mr. James Kastetter, received the first testing at the Ball State Speech Conference on January 18. The club fared well, with Chuck Todd receiving a "superior" rating for scoring twenty-six points out of a possible thirty and Bob Humes rating "excellent" for being in the top twenty per cent of all debaters participating.

Acknowledging the stress on articulation, French Club members speak nothing but French during meetings. After a "dry" spell, the French Club reorganized under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Anne Kondrath and began its official meetings in March. A picnic and French dinner were among the activities.

French Club officers make plans with Miss Mary Anne Kondrath, sponsor; Bruce Arnold, vice-president; Cindy Morgan, secretary-treasurer; Miss Kondrath, and Doug Booth, president.

Figures, Projects Intrigue Logical Minds

Because of recent emphasis on science and mathematics, interest of the high schooler in them has zoomed. This increased academic interest has carried over outside the classroom and made Manuel's math and science clubs grow.

Math Club has divided into Freshman and Advanced sections. The latter was organized to answer questions beyond ordinary classroom discussion. Mr. Harold Baumer sponsors both clubs.

Saturdays are the "gathering times" of the Science Club. Subjects investigated at this year's meetings include frogs, crystals, corn stalk cells, and the tensile strength of paper. While one Saturday is spent in background work on the subjects, the next few weeks are filled with experiments. The members set up an exhibit at the Hobby Show on chromatography. A project of special interest in the club was a trip to Chicago during spring vacation, financed by a very "profitable" car wash.

'Booster' Does Just That for Manual

Lining up to meet a deadline, reporters polish writing as well as typing skill: Beverly Boyd, Cheryl Nackenhorst, Linda Ellis, Linda Scheier, Ruthann Surber, Sally Pullen.

Assignment sheets, the tap-tap-tap of typewriters, madly flying pencils, and a voice saying, "This is Manual; our copy's ready"—all these mean "Booster" to the many staffers who share in the work and fun involved in getting the paper to press.

This process begins on Monday when page editors tack up assignment sheets. After checking these, reporters start "bringin' in the news." Those assigned to such weekly features as "Around the Halls" begin "snooping" for available stories. As the week progresses and deadlines approach, reporters begin the job of writing up their stories.

Deadline nights—Thursday for Pages 2, 3, and 4, and Fridays for Page 1—are often filled with Editors' frantic efforts to write copy for "lagging" reporters. Galley proofs come for correction on Monday; meanwhile, a "new" paper is assigned. Editors work on makeup; after the sometimes-frantic job of rearranging copy to fit the space, the pages are sent to the printer. The "Booster" returns to Manual Friday morning to be separated into Home Room stacks for distribution by agents.

The "Booster" campaigned this year for a bridge to be constructed over Pleasant Run at Ransdall Street. The paper also won an award for having the "best" issue urging increased protection from TB.

Whether a Tee-Pee Tale, an editorial, or just news from around the halls, our paper promotes school spirit—in accordance with its "Booster" policy.

More Students, More School—More 'Ivian'

The '64 "Ivian" began to take shape last summer when its theme "Growing Pains" was chosen. Since this year's "Ivian" had to add eight pages to take care of more "faces," and the building had expanded, the theme has been most appropriate. With September work started full-speed ahead. Pictures were snapped, layouts drawn, and copy written to "tie in" with the theme. Sports editors had to keep up with the hectic athletic schedule. Senior, faculty, and underclass editors organized their sections, and the opening section received its finishing touches. When the March 20 deadline was closing in, everyone hit the home stretch with efforts pointed at unifying the book. Finally, with everything in, the staff sighed with relief, while the "boss" began plans for next year's book.

Y-Clubs, Red Cross Enjoy Service Status

"Serving others and the many people we meet in our day-to-day lives" is the main objective of the members of three of Manual's service clubs—Y-Teens, Tri-Hi-Y, and High School Red Cross.

A member of Y-Teens is automatically a member of the Central YWCA and is entitled to use all facilities there. An annual event looked forward to by the girls is the Y-Teen Summer Conference at Lake Wawasee. Also, this year the girls met during spring vacation with Y-Teens from other city high schools to make a tour of several colleges. Each winter at a state-wide meeting, Y-Teens meet to spend a day learning, working, and playing together.

The Tri-Hi-Y backed our basketball team by selling red derbies for Sectional. In April, Debbie Barkhau, Nancy Bauer, Carolyn Booth, Debbie Bousum, Linda Foley, Nancy Lagle, Mary Lou Roch, and Phyllis Webb attended Model UN at the State House, representing French Guinea, Iceland, Mexico, and Nicaragua.

The Red Cross Club provided an overseas chest for a foreign school. The chest itself was made by boys in Wood Shop, and the girls filled it with health, educational, and recreational items, and included a copy of the '64 Ivian. Linda Smith, Mary Shaw, Darlene Jarvis, and Janice Coop served as Manual's delegates to the Red Cross Board. It meets three times a month at the Red Cross Chapter House, and members are treated to dinner.

Y-Teens officers take charge of a meeting: Sally Olds, treasurer; Sharlene Hayes, secretary; Connie Goss, president; and Sally Stephans, vice-president. Tri-Hi-Y members look at new club pins: Nancy Lagle, treasurer; Phyllis Webb; Sandra Plummer; Paulette Brehob, and Judy Shives, vice-president.

High School Red Cross seamstresses make arm bands for members to wear to Red Cross Board meetings: Darlene Jarvis, secretary; Kathy Yates, treasurer; Sue Flike, armband designer; Janice Coop, assistant treasurer; Sheila Bush, corresponding secretary; Evangeline Baker, president, and Loretta Hofmeister.

Printers, Artists Pursue Crafts With Interest

An interest in arts and crafts prepares us for adult hobbies or even stimulates vocational plans.

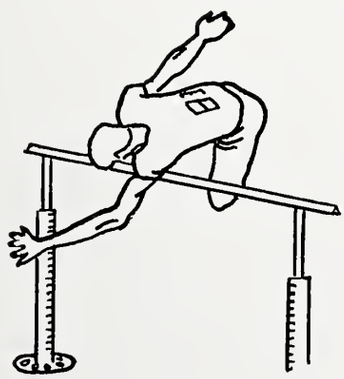
Future Printers Club, now in its third year, is sponsored by Mr. John Easley. The club is often visited by commercial printers who discuss the "tricks of the trade," giving the members an insight into the commercial fields. Trips to the Indianapolis Star, The Indianapolis News, Typographical Service, and Weimer Press helped add to the "apprentice" printers' education. With money earned from club-sponsored activities, a library of Graphic Arts materials has been started.

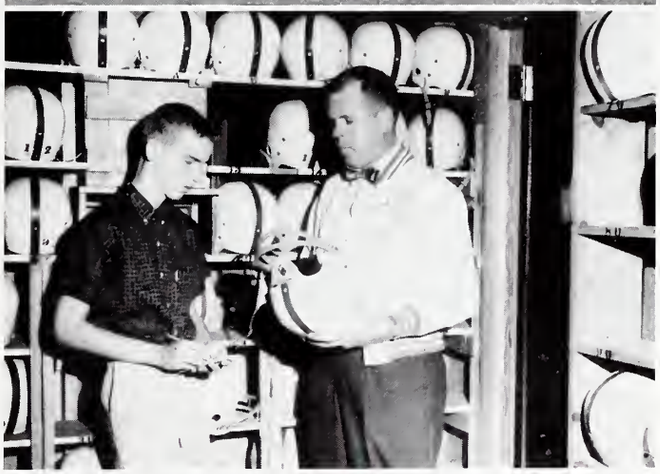
Craft Arts Club meets twice each month because members are eager to work on their projects. Using the facilities in the Craft Class room, members plan their projects in ceramics, weaving, enameling, woodcarving, and whatever else these "craftsmen" find interesting. Under the guidance of Mrs. Mildred Haskens, teacher of Craft Arts and a member of the Craftsmen's Guild, members complete many items. While on a field trip to John Herron Art Museum to view an exhibit of contemporary art, members toured the whole museum as this was a "first time" visit for many of the students.

Craft Arts members board the school bus for John Herron Institute to study others' works. Below, they consult Mrs. Mildred Haskens, sponsor, on their own projects at a regular meeting.

Growing Pains

Whether athlete or audience, we Redskins need to grow in both personal skill and respect for the talents of others; however, we must also mature in the ability to win with pride and lose gracefully. With hearts trained for victory, it is often painful to accept defeat, but this is part of growing up. Our motto, "we can, we must, we will," speaks for our desire and our determination.





Jerry Lewis Receives MVP Award for Up-and-Down

Jerry Lewis scored nine touchdowns to win the title of most valuable player for the 1963 grid season. Even though the team gave some talented performances, the Redmen posted only two victories and achieved just two ties while the opposition took five tilts. Both seniors and underclassmen gave strong competition to opponents both defensively and offensively. The Redskin victories were over Shortridge and Broad Ripple; ties were with Howe and Southport; and losses were to Sacred Heart, Washington, Cathedral, Tech, and Wood.

The Redmen were unable to find a good offense at the start of the season and could muster only 31 points in the first four contests. Even with this output, a few breaks could have made two victories out of the Sacred Heart and Howe contests. The conversion of an extra point by Sacred Heart and a freak TD on a blocked punt by Howe were the things that made the difference in those tilts. Coach Noah Ellis' squad made a show in every game except Cathedral and Tech when the team was blanked for four periods by 25-0 and 33-0 scores.

The team showed some punch in downing Shortridge 27-20, and in each of its last three games. Broad Ripple fell under a strong defensive display which carried over into the Southport tie.

2-5-2 Gridiron Season

The Cardinal game was the best played all year, with Manual putting on a strong comeback to stop the once-beaten Redbirds. Jerry Lewis highlighted the Wood game with three touchdowns; notwithstanding, the Woodchucks won on the last play.

Jerry Lewis, scoring 55 points, and Pete Van Dyke, hitting hard from tackle, earned second-team All-City. This was Pete's second time and Jerry's first, with Jerry's senior year yet to come.

Vic Jacobs, who played at end and at quarterback, heads the list of those lost by graduation. Others who saw regular action include Dan Nicoson at quarterback, Mike Kratoska and Bill Jones in the halfback slot, and Linemen Pete Van Dyke, Lester Lull, Gary Eby, Don Mosby and Ron Stevens, Dennis McDaniels, Bob Whitson, and Eddie Norris. Also, Linebacker Lee Gadient played standout ball. Other gridders who performed well when called upon were Jim Arnold, Mike Stiles, Mike Mascari, Steve Adams, and Gary Helm.

Losing 18 boys could be a big blow; but to Manual, it is softened by a good crop of juniors heading a backfield combination of Jerry Lewis, Larry Smith, Richard Cooper, and Ron McBride.

Too many Hornets for comfort! Vic Jacobs tries a handoff to Bill Jones in an area congested by too many brown shirts.

Even though the varsity came out on the short end of the slate, Manual's Reserve and Freshman teams compiled winning records. The Reserves, under Coach Jack Johns, downed six opponents while losing to only three. The team downed Sacred Heart, Washington, Howe, Shortridge, Tech, and Wood. Defeats were by Cathedral, Broad Ripple, and Southport.

The Freshmen, under first-year Coaches Ray Schultz and Al Pike, came on strong to finish with a five-win and four-loss record. The Frosh downed Broad Ripple, Howe, Perry East, and Wood. Loses were at the hands of Tech, Cathedral, and Washington, and, in a second contest, to Broad Ripple.

Brown Paces Harriers To Cop Meet Medals

Harold Brown, Manual's number one runner, displayed his abilities during the season by pulling in medals from the major invitationals. Brown won the first meet of the season in near-record time, rounding Manual's course in 10:10, just 2.5 seconds off Leon Carter's course record of 10:07.5.

Manual's varsity felt the loss of last year's Southport Invitational champs as they collected a fifth in the City Meet, fourth in the Washington Invitational, and third in the Howe Invitational. The Harriers gained a seventh out of a field of 21 teams in the Sectional Meet to close the 1963 season. The reserve and freshman teams both captured fifths in their city meets. Bob Brown, Harold's brother, seized the individual freshman city champion crown by touring the one-and-one-half mile course in 7:23. Erich Brown placed seventh in the meet as he squeezed under the magic mark of 8:00 by turning out a 7:59 clocking.

Senior Lee Gadient won City and Sectional championships for the second year in a row to pace Coach Jack Foster's 1963-64 Matmen. Gadient's 13-1 dual match and 20-2 overall records earned him the team's Most Valuable Player award for the second consecutive year. Lee's second defeat was in the Regional final at the hands of the eventual 145-pound state champ from Evansville, Matre Dei.

Coach Foster's grapplers wrestled their way to a 6-8 winter season tally. The six wins came at the expense of Washington, Broad Ripple, Scecina, Northwest, Wood, and Howe. The Redmen finished with a sixth place position in the City Tournament held at Arlington High School. In addition to Gadient's City victory, Mike Mascari wrestled to a second place in the 138-pound class and Larry Johnson won a third place title in the 127-pound division.

Manual placed fourth in the Sectional at Franklin with 41 points. Ed McKinney and Dennis McDaniel each placed third while Mascari, Lester Lull, and Bob Whitson placed fourth in weight divisions.

Coach Al Pike's Reserve squad finished with a 6-6-2 season mark. Marlow Mullen and Don VanDer-Moere each were City runnersup. Junior Paul Stroud paced the team in the regular season with 14 dual meet wins. Don Silas led the Frosh with a City Heavyweight division title.

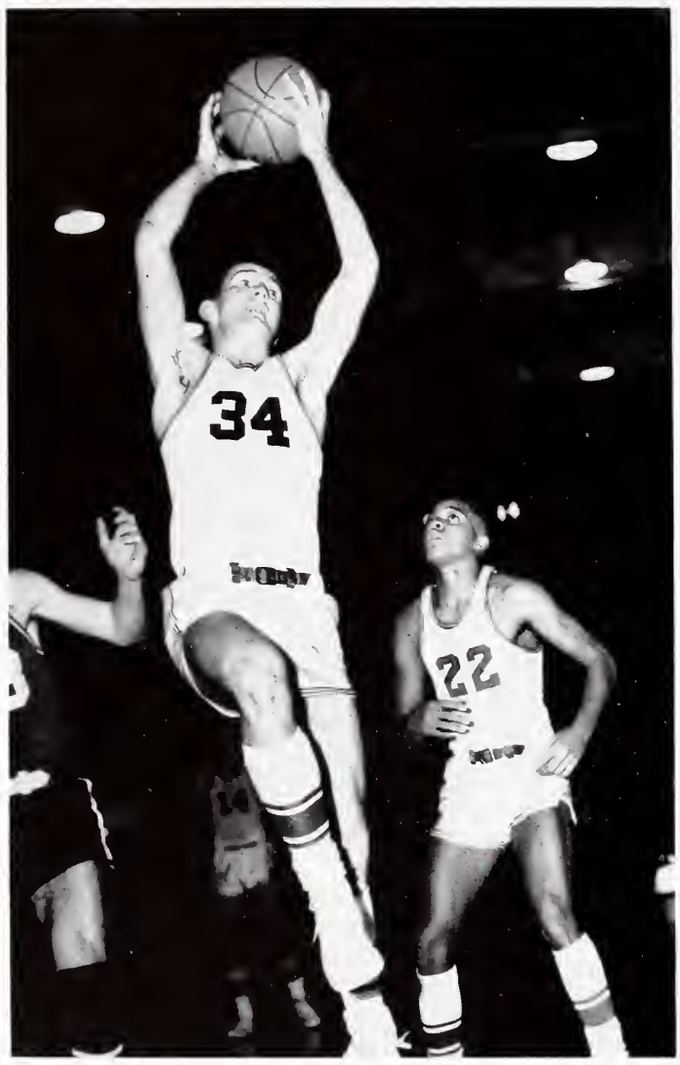
Comptonmen Improve Well as Season Wanes

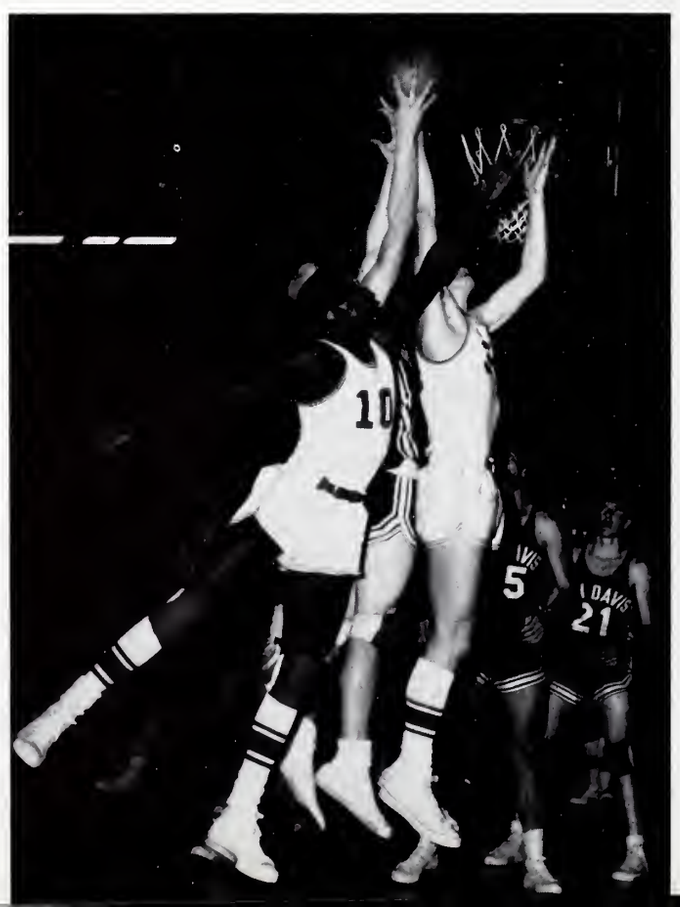


Hardworking senior forward Bill Jones has control of the ball in hot action for Manual. Bill was voted the team's MVP.

Manual sported a young basketball squad during the 1963-'64 season that played some fine ball to compile a 9-11 record. Under Coach "Dee" Compton, in his last year as head mentor, the Redmen downed most of their foes in a good second half of the season. Manual victims were Sacred Heart, Bloomington, Wood, Broad Ripple, North Central, Arlington, Warren Central, Shortridge, and Southport. Defeats for the squad were at the hands of Cathedral. Terre Haute Gerstmeyer, New Albany, Columbus, Ben Davis, Washington twice, Wood, Tech, Howe, and Scecina.

The Redmen started slow, winning only one of their first five, and four of their first ten games. Then with the return of three-year veteran Bill Jones to the lineup, the squad began to make their presence felt. Bill came back after a football injury to do workhorse assignments for which he won the most valuable player title. The Redmen downed some five teams, including County Champ Warren Central and well-regarded Wood and Shortridge. Also, state-ranked Tech and Washington found hard going against Manual, defeating the 'Skins by small margins.

The starting lineup for most of the season was made up of three juniors—Mike Hargraves, Larry Smith, and Charles Wood—and Seniors Bill Jones and Denzil Throckmorton. This unit showed good speed, shooting ability, and rebounding prowess. Junior Richard Cooper gave good performances as number six man. Giving added experience early in the year was Vic Jacobs, later sidelined by illness.



Charlie Wood, though only 5'9", can rebound with the best. Here he leaps high after the ball against taller opponents.

Push 'Rated' Washington In Hot Sectional Play—

Manual was off and on in most games, playing in spurts of powerhouse or error-plagued ball. The Redmen in some games made opponents play "their" game of pattern ball, thus producing low-scoring games. In others, they had to run with their opponents. A good shooting percentage prevailed in most of the team's games, with the firing improving at the last of the year. The Redskins played their finest game in the last season contest with rival Southport. The 87-81 contest was not only Manual's best firing contest, but also the highest scoring output by a Redskin team in three years. In sectional play, the Redmen showed good form against eventual runner-up Washington, but lost their poise and dropped a 67-64 contest.

Larry Carter pushes the ball up from under the goal with eager defenders in his path. Larry is a graduating senior.

Record Belies Prowess of Redskin Varsity

Junior Mike Hargraves led the statistical sheet with 219 points, followed by Seniors Denzil Throckmorton and Bill Jones. Strong rebounding prevailed during the year, even though the squad wasn't big in respect to many other teams. A lot of the strength will be back next year with four strong players: Smith, Wood, Hargraves, and Richard Cooper.

Frosh, Reserves Display Future Talent

Manual's reserve squad produced the best record among the school's teams with a 13-7 mark. Under Coach "Woody" McBride, the team has had two consecutive winning seasons. Perry Cobb and Karlis Steinmanis gave strong performances all year in leading the "B" team. Coach Howard Dardeen's first year men chalked up an 8-12 slate. Louis Meo, Steve Snoddy, and Bill Norris were mainstays on the squad. This was the second year for Coach Dardeen, Indiana "All-Star," 1958.

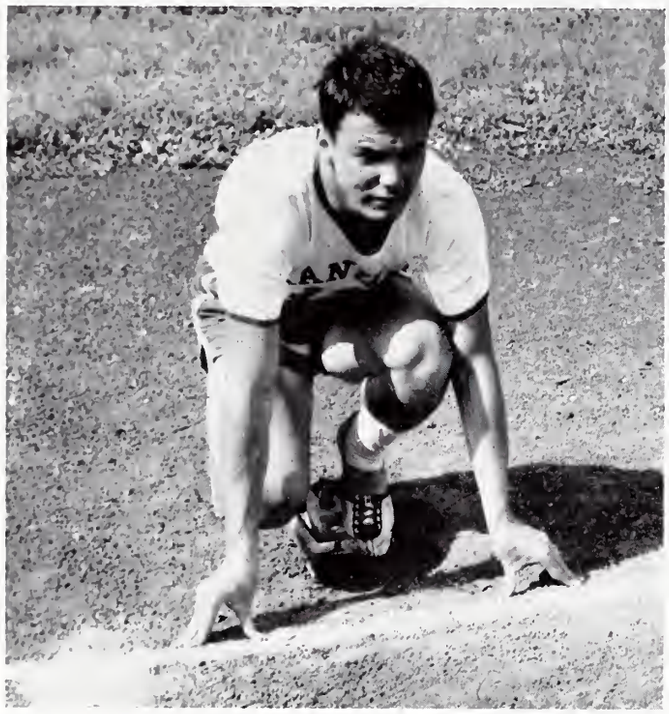
All Cinder Teams Land In Winning Column



Trackman Dave Morris is poised for a speedy take-off. Dave shared the coveted MVP with fellow trackman Roger Wathen.

All three Manual track teams came through with winning seasons in 1963 as Manual's traditional supremacy was upheld. Manual's Varsity dashed off a 12-2 season record and grabbed five medals in the Hoosier Relays. Only Howe and Washington managed to squeeze by the 'Skins. The Redmen earned a fourth in the City Meet by compiling 26 points. Roger Wathen captured first place in the 440 as he broke the school and city records with a time of 51.5 seconds. The mile relay team, composed of Bill Jones, Jerry Lewis, Richard Cooper, and Roger Wathen, tied the school and city records by finishing the distance in 3:31.0.

The Redskins copped second place in the sectional, being downed by a half point by Washington's 37½ points. Dave Morris won the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Wathen broke a 24-year record by rounding the track in 51.4 seconds as he won the 440. The mile relay team again took a first. Wathen qualified for the State by earning seconds in the broad jump and 440. Wathen set a school record in the broad jump by leaping 22′5½″. Lewis Vaughn, Wayne Monroe, Gene McFarland, and Dave Morris set a new record of 1:35.4 in the 880 yard relay.

THIRD ROW: Coach Noah Ellis, John Stainbrook, Jim Fikes, Dennis Dodd, Gilbert Elrod, Jerry Hill, Dave Young, Steve Archer.

The Freshmen compiled a 9-3 record and the Reserves finished at 6-1. The Freshman mile relay team broke the old freshman record by running it in 3:51.4 by Freshmen Steve Archer, Jim Maschmeyer, Austin Wathen, and Ronnie McBride.

Senior Varsity cindermen who graduated in 1963 are Lewis Vaughn, Roger Wathen, Terry Steadham, Ken Collins, Wayne Monroe, Gene McFarland, Dave Morris, Scott Hartman, and Bill Fritsche.

A good pitching staff, headed by Mike Shea, backed by the slugging of Mike Liggett, Vic Jacobs, Denzil Throckmorton, and Doug Mullen brought a winning baseball season to Manual in 1963. Under Coach Gene Harvey, the Redskin diamondmen gathered a 10-6 slate by beating Arlington, Warren Central, Greenwood, Brownsburg, Washington, Sacred Heart, Shortridge, Scecina, Wood, and Pike.

In the pitching department, Mike Shea took the honors with six of the Manual victories. Ted Collins and Larry Markle backed up Mike with the other wins, one of which was a no-hitter against Wood by Ted. They received good support, proved by the fact that Howe was the only club to shut out the Redskins.

Mike Liggett led the team in batting with a .400 average. He and Jacobs, Throckmorton, and Mullen hit more than one home run apiece in the spring to lead the way for the other swingers. All but Mullen will return in '64 to beef up future prospects.

Nine seniors graduated from the team. They were Mike Shea, Ted Collins, Doug Mullen, Bill Styring, Phil Steele, Charles Johnson, Larry Marker, Jim Jones, and Paul Switzer. This season was a big improvement over the last two years, and things look good for the future with about half of the team returning with experience.

Senior Mike Shea heaves his blazing fast ball down the diamond. Mike bothered batters to gather six of the Redskin's ten wins.

Coach Leland Walter's tennis squad copped the Southside Invitational Tennis Tournament last fall by downing teams from Sacred Heart, Wood, and Howe. Ron Rae won the championship at the number-two position. Bob VanNoy won at the third position, and John Hartman tallied a number-four position victory. VanNoy and Hartman won the number-two doubles championship, while Rae and Gene Voelkel combined for the runnersup spot in the number-one doubles.

Ron Rae won the Most Valuable Player award as he led the team to a 7-8 1963 Spring season. Rae's 12-5 season slate earned him a runnersup place in the City Tournament. Downing quintets from Wood, Scecina, Attucks, Warren Central, Arlington, Howe, and Washington, the netters lost Dick Hedegard and Leslie Begley through graduation.

Junior Norman Fuchs won medalist honors in the 1963 City Golf Tournament with a score of 37 for nine holes. Fuchs was the only teeman to break 40 in the tournament, and he carried a season average of 39 strokes for the 17 matches. Terry Hook followed with a 41-stroke average. Coach Oral Bridgford's squad posted a season slate of 6-11.

Phil Steele was one teeman lost through 1963 graduation. The team should be extremely strong this year with Fuchs, Roger Day, and Hook back.

Year 'Round Intramurals Provide Fun, Exercise

Archers Rita Stafford, Carolyn Hickman, and Judy Yates line up to let fly with their arrows toward the target.

Intramural sports provide activities throughout the school year for those Manualites interested in athletics. Available for both boys and girls, intramurals provide a varied program with emphasis on enjoying sports and working off excess energy.

Mr. Gene Harvey sponsored Boys' Intramural basketball. Boys made up their own teams for the Tuesday night games and played for berths in the big season-end tournament, completed in early March.

Girls had the opportunities for fun in their program of volleyball, basketball, and archery. Also softball and tennis were offered. Miss Theo Parr and Miss Elena Raglin were the faculty sponsors of the girls' activities on weekdays after school.

Along with Boys' Intramurals, Mr. Harvey also sponsored the Manual Bowling League. Students participated on teams and competed for team trophies and trophies for individual ability. This group was open to both boys and girls — our first coed intramural — and received a large number of participants.

Nancy Stroy, one of Manual's better girl bowlers, is about to lose her ball down the alley. It looks as though her mouth is set right for a needed strike.

Terry Clugston checks the score sheet before stepping up to the line. Gerhard Gennrich is score keeper; Mike Kratoska and Glenn Young take a breather while awaiting their turns.

Growing Pains

Most of us enter Manual, freshmen in size, feelings, and intelligence. During our high school years, we experience "growing pains" in all phases of development. We pass the all-important milestone of the sixteenth birthday which makes a driver's license accessible. Finally, as seniors, richer in friendships, understanding, and knowledge, we emerge a little taller and a little straighter.

Largest Ever Senior Class Matriculates

Principal C. Edgar Stahl presents Senior Class President JoNell Rugenstein with the traditional gavel during the official class meeting in the Cafeteria which wound up Senior Day.

As their years at Manual draw to a whirling finale, seniors are apt to find themselves casting longing backward glances at past experiences; however, the more than four-hundred-fifty members of the Class of '64 had little time for reminiscence.

Class activities began with dues and election of officers. Senior Class Day, October 16, was characterized by roses, armbands, and aching feet.

Next on the Senior Agenda came Turnabout Day. Principal Bob Humes was assisted at the helm by Vice-Principals Linda Wilson and Dan Nicoson.

The tinkle of money could again be heard as the time for ordering name cards and announcements rolled around. Kris Kringle made his annual "surprise" visit at the Senior-Freshman Christmas Party.

Many seniors "worried through" SAT tests, eyeing the future and college admissions. The year ended in a flurry of activities—Senior Play, square dance, John Henry Hop, grades, Commencement, and Prom.

Finally it ends—a senior year not too different from others—but seeming better because it was ours.

Denise Shockley and Steve Davis lead off the dance as queen and king of the 1963 Junior Prom.

Steve and Denise receive their crowns from Mr. Thomas Taylor and Janice Ryder, queen of the 1962 Junior Prom. Candidates Terry Jinks and Brenda Crawford seem pleased with the choice.

Top Ten Juniors of the Class of '64 are, standing, Vaida Mikits, Bob Humes, Jim Muir, Steve Davis, and JoNell Rugenstein; seated are Donna Berry, Sue Byers, Bev Porter, Susan Peters, and Becky Pearce. The awards were announced at a class gathering in the Auditorium as part of last year's Junior Day program. The honor is based on grades and activities.

Perry Cobb Heads Largest Ever Junior Class

Treasurer Lynn Kinkade, Secretary Sharon Callahan, Vice-president Nancy Norcross, and President Perry Cobb, class officers, pause in front of the Junior Christmas Tree.

The largest junior class in Manual's history was this year's—626 enthusiastic students who went about their activities with vim and vigor.

In keeping with the size of the class, the traditional Manual Christmas tree provided by the '65ers was so large it almost blocked the main hallway. But no one seemed to mind having to sidle past it because it filled us all with Holiday Spirit.

Juniors ordered class rings in February from a copyrighted design made especially for Manualites by Mr. Oran Davis, Head of the Art Department. The shanks are "all Manual"—a war-dancing Redskin on one side, and symbols for Manual's motto "Education for mind, hand, and heart" on the other.

Class Day for the juniors was March 4, and President Perry Cobb presided at the first formal meeting in the Auditorium at the close of the school day, during which juniors were much in evidence because of new dresses and suits and ties.

Girls in fluffy formals and boys in white dinner jackets attended the prom for the Class of '65 at the Indiana University Medical Center on April 18. The King and Queen were crowned during intermission. Guests were served punch from a bowl made of ice with flowers frozen in it, a tradition initiated by Mr. J. Ray Johnson, class sponsor.

Juniors Charlene Bartram and Dick Williams display the jeweler's drawings for the ring designed this year by Art Teacher Oran Davis as an exclusive Manual class ring.

A footbridge for Manualites became an issue as students resumed the trek to school from the east and north without the aid of a bridge over Pleasant Run at Ransdell Street. The Booster "borrowed" a footbridge west of the school to show what might be done to alleviate the problem. Such a bridge would eliminate the roundabout approach of going up Pleasant Run Boulevard to Madison Avenue before crossing the creek.

Even the 'Pros' Go to Loudermilk's

"We can't take our own portraits," says Jayne Perkon, one of the Ivian photographers, "so where else but to Loudermilk's for a personality-plus picture,"

And here's the Ivian's other senior photographer, Chuck Williams, saying "cheese" over his Graphic to the birdie on Loudermilk's portrait camera.

And so we come to the end, not only of the '64 Ivian, but also of another school year. For seniors, it is a "good-bye" to high school days that have been piled high with learning, with fun, with growing. For others, it is only a "so long" until the not-too-distant days of next year.
For all of us, we leave part of ourselves at Manual—perhaps that part which we outgrew this year. The Ivian preserves these memories for us
